DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-8, 10, and 12-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Salvio et al (5,619,036) in view of Strumolo et al (6,535,242) for the same reasons as set forth in Section 4 of the last office action, dated 8/26/05.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 10/27/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument on pages 2-3 of the Remarks that the controller of Salvio et al could be a manual controller, an argument of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986). Regarding applicant's argument on page 4 of the Remarks that neither Salvio et al nor Strumolo et al discloses the means to control or activate the door and the camera, it was clearly stated in the previous office action that Salvio et al discloses all these means in Figure 2. It is true that Strumolo et al does not disclose any control of a door in front of the cameras as that claimed by the Applicant. However, examiner does not rely on Strumolo et al to teach such capabilities because they are already disclosed in Salvio et al. Strumolo et al merely provides the motivation that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, having both references of Salvio et al and Strumolo et al before him/her, to modify the vision enhancement system of Salvio et al to be upgraded as a night vision apparatus by simply utilizing an automatic controller 14 to activate the cameras 18 to include the same low light detection camera means and competitive processing equipment as specified in claims 1-8, 10, and 12-21. With an upgraded night vision system, one of ordinary skill in the art would have had no difficulty in applying automatic processing to any related functions such as opening and closing the protective door of the camera means 14 by the controller, as illustrated in Figure 2 of Salvio et al, since automatic controlling/processing is a necessary and well known technique for many night vision systems.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

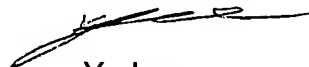

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
